Husaks Back From ATA Goodwill Tour

Just back from an extended European trip during which they devoted much time to things philatelic and to topical interests in particular, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Husak—"Jerry" and "Sally" to everybody who ever licked a stamp hinge—report a wonderful trip.

Making the rounds at their own expense, they landed August 25 at Glasgow, made London the next day, and Amsterdam the 29th.
Paris, Italy, Austria, Switzerland and Germany followed, and at all points philatelic contacts were made or renewed. Much benefit accrued to President Eisenhower's People to People Friendship Program and of course to philately.

A pleasant visit was spent with Capt. Philippe Durand, Glasgow topical collector since 1907, and in Edinburgh with M. Hodson, author of the American Topical Assn.'s Handbook #18, "Postal History Thematic Catalog". Thus it was all along their journey.

Back home in Milwaukee they found at the end of their rainbow not exactly a pot of gold but, rather, a huge backlog of unanswered mail, "Jerry" being executive secretary of the ATA and editor of the society's bi-monthly
"TOPICAL TIME" magazine. Mail will be answered beginning at the bottom of the stack, the Husaks promise, asking just a bit of patience from correspondents while they work back into the swing of things.

'57 "Santa Claus" FD Seal Covers Offered

With the first day of issue of the 1957 Anti-Tuberculosis Christmas Seals set for November 15, the Monroe County, Indiana Tuberculosis Assn. announces that First Day covers will be available from Santa Claus, Ind.

Covers are priced at 25c each, including commemorative franking, although if collectors wish to provide special franking of their own they may do so. The sponsors supply covers; collectors must not send their own.

Purchasers should print or write their names and addresses plainly, to avoid improper directing of covers. If the first day envelopes are desired returned under cover, sufficient additional postage costs must be included.

Send orders and proper remittances in cash (no stamps) to Earl MacMillin, 720 E. University St., Bloomington, Ind. to arrive by November 12. This is the 20th year the MacMillins have cooperated with collectors, and they suggest that commems on orders will be appreciated.

Johannesburg to Perth, Australia, November 25. To commemorate the event the firm is preparing special souvenir envelopes which will be offered the public.

Philatelic handling will be accorded by the post office in Pretoria, South Africa, including the application of a special cancelling postmark for the event. Unless otherwise requested, two current 1/3 Springbook stamps will be used for franking.

Collectors may order as many covers as desired, on the following terms:

Print name and address in block letters.

State specifically the number of covers desired.

State and enclose the proper remittance, in the form of international money order or bank draft.
Personal checks, coins and foreign banknotes are not acceptable. The total cost per cover including return postage is 45c U. S.

Applications should be forwarded promptly, but in any event to arrive not later than November 16.

All covers will bear the address of the South African Airways representative in Perth, and will be returned to South Africa for delivery. Collectors desiring their covers returned via registered post should enclose an extra 7c remittance for this service.

Orders should be sent to Philatelic Services, Post Office Publicity Branch, G.P.O. Pretoria, South Africa. Airmail, at 25c per half ounce, is recommended in view of the time factor.

Airmail history enthusiasts will recollect that this Indian Ocean expansion from Africa to Australia was the last barrier to be overcome in man's attempt to cut down on the time element in the exchange of intercontinental mails.

The first air conquest of the Australia-Africa route did not take place until mid-1938 when the Richard Archbold Expedition accomplished it. This was by no means a direct flight, as the flying boat "GUBA" circled well to the north to make stops at three tiny islands and finally hit the African continent half-way up the east coast at Mombasa.

It was not until November 1947 that regular service was begun between Johannesburg, South Africa and Sydney, Australia, by Quantas Empire Airways in what was the first commercial crossing of the lower part of the Indian Ocean.

This forthcoming SAA first flight, by coincidence, follows by but two days the 40th anniversary of the first air mail flight in South Australia which is being marked with special ceremonies and covers in that region. Further, it anticipates by the same margin the Tenth Year of the Quantas first (return) flight from Johannesburg to Sydney in 1947.

Dominica Issues Four New Regulars

Four new stamps came from the British Crown Colony of Dominica on October 15. One of them is a new denomination while the remaining three are current values each with a new design.

The new one is a 10c in green and brown which pictures banana harvesting. The 3c black and red and the 48c sepia and mauve both picture mat-making. A 5c in turquoise and sepia shows the making of a canoe.

Printing was by Bradbury Wilkinson & Co., Ltd., from engraved plates in sheets of fifty subjects (5 x 10).

The superseded 3c, 5c and 48c values were withdrawn from further sale on October 14, according to the Crown Agents' representative in Washington, D.C.

Stamps" and "America the Beautiful" which were Court of Honor participants in TABIL, the international philatelic show recently conrecipients of a gold medal, according to Jacques Minkus, U. S. Com-shown in the Cardinal's collection were the thousands of persons, in-tion.

Among top winners in the com-

Once a year we offer what is widely regarded as the finest mixture obtainable
It consists exclusively of stamps received on our own world wide correspondence high values, short-lived commemoratives and so forth. Although we ship these mixtures on the original envelopes to also please those who are primarily cover collectors, we are charging only for the actual stamps — and charging mighty little at that. We have divided our limited supply into generous $10.00 and $25.00 parcels, postpaid within the U.S. & Canada, and will cheerfully send a

Art Sources Of Stamp Designs - Philatelic Detective Work -

Mrs. Clare McAlister

It is fascinating to learn the sources upon which stamp designers draw for their artwork. Many are obvious, but behind others lies a story and it is for such a story that members of the Fine Arts Unit of the American Topical Assn. are constantly seeking — hoping to find another stamp which will be of interest.

Portraits are among the obvious designs; but have you ever wondered where on earth some of the old ones were obtained? We have selected the somewhat arbitrary date of 1840 and assume that the portrait of any person who died on or before then has been copied from some type of art work — painting, lithograph, sculpture, and so on.

Exceptions will be found to this rule for frequently there is no picture in existence of the person depicted. When this occurs, the painting of an unknown may be deliberately substituted, or the portrait may be entirely the product of the designer's imagination. Stamps of the Netherlands, about which we have learned a great deal thanks to the courtesy of the Netherlands P. T. T., show examples of this. Other countries also use the same technique.

A portrait of the poet Antony Christiaan Winand Staring, 1767-1840, appears on a semipostal issued by the Netherlands May 29, 1941. This was designed by S. Hartz and is entirely imaginary. It seems somewhat strange as Staring's dates are sufficiently recent so that one would think there should be some kind of a representation of him in existence. There may be, but we have word that this picture was composed without exception.

A portrait of the poet Maria Tessa Schade, 1594-1649, is on another semipostal issued by the Netherlands (May 16, 1938). There is no known picture of her, so a crayon drawing of an unknown woman (by Hendrik Goltzius) was used as a basis for this design.

The portrait of Confucius on the 1947 issue of China is another imaginary one. However, it is the product of the imagination of an artist from centuries past.

It is adapted from a stone engraving by an unknown artist. It is typical of those representing Confucius as a kind-hearted old gentleman. The large ears (a sign of sincerity) and the rather flat nose (curved inward) are characteristic of his appearance as usually described some centuries after his death. Many other like instances could be cited.

Many portraits seen on stamps have been designed from those found in old manuscripts, books, and maps. The Marco Polo, issued by Italy on July 8, 1954, comes immediately to mind in connection with a map. The map-makers of the time used to sketch the heads of their sea captains on their maps and it is thus that a German map-maker gave us an idea of the appearance of Marco Polo.

Among many others is the portrait of Count Lamor: I II, 1621-1676, on the 4fr. stamp issued by Belgium in 1952 to commemorate the 13th U.P.U. Congress. This came from an engraving in "Les marques d'Honneur de la maison de Tassis" by J. Chifflet.

Yet other portraits have been designed from those on tapestries. The 3fr. stamp issued by Belgium in 1952 portraying Count Leonard II, 1594-1628, shows a detail of the count on horseback from a tapestry in the Bibliotheque Princiere de Tour and Tassis, at Ratisbonne.

According to Mrs. Margaret Marcus of the Cleveland Museum of Art, the stamps of Japan are full of interesting fine art touches.

For instance, in 1930 two stamps were issued in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the dedication of the Meiji Shrine. The border of these stamps was taken from the textile band used to raise and lower the drop curtain of the main shrine. The design originally appeared on textiles of China's Tang dynasty.

One of the most interesting stamps, however, is the 30s stamp issued by Japan in 1946 showing the Horyu Temple Pagoda. The border shows a design said to have been adapted from a metallic decoration of BEETLE WINGS! But we must not give away all of Mrs. Marcus' secrets.

It is believed that a necklace is the basis for part of the design on the 1d and 5d stamps issued by Crete in 1905. According to Charles S. Thompson (Weekly Philatelic Gossip 12/19/42) the five eight-petaled daisies forming part of the background of the Europa on the Bull stamp, and the rosettes which flank the "5's" at the top of the Arcadi Monastery one, may have been adapted from a pattern on a solid gold necklace from Phaistos.

Several stamps have been copied from artwork appearing on plates. Among them are the four issued by Russia on September 10, 1935, for the 3rd International Exposition of Persian Art. They depict a lion hunt of Shapur II from a plate of the Sassanian Dynasty (A.D. 221 to 650), which is one of the treasures of the Hermitage Gallery. A detail of this plate may also be found on Persia Scott No. #982.

So you see, sources for stamp designs are almost infinite — if one could only track them down.

Stamp Thefts Can Be Stopped . . .

Since the first of this year there have been several very notable thefts of fine stamps. Just to mention a few, the Jayne collection in Chicago, Bell of Canada, a Detroit collection and among the later ones the fine collection of Israel made by Taylor of Portland, Ore. and given to the Jewish National Fund Headquarters at San Francisco. Later it was to have been sent to the Jewish National Museum in Jerusalem.

GEORGE W. LINN

There seems to have been some quick, fast and decisive action in this later theft. Three young men have been apprehended and a large part of the stamps recovered, but sad to say, the beautiful album pages on which the stamps were displayed have been destroyed along with the album binders.

We feel confident that if the plan we shall suggest in this editorial had been followed with reference to the theft of the auction lots at Tampa as well as the theft of the stamps from the APS show in San Francisco, the thieves would now be behind bars. The plan we suggest can work provided that dealers will cooperate fully in putting it into effect. We should also have the same cooperation from collectors, for collectors too have been known to buy stolen stamps even though unknowingly.

We fully believe that the better and more reputable dealers are honest and would like to see thieves caught and punished, but they often are lax in that they do not fully investigate and find out whence the stamps that are offered them may have come. This same may be said of collectors, but the collectors are far less apt to become involved than is the dealer.

Is it not a fact that if a large quantity of stamps in the form of a collection, or in some other form is offered to a stamp dealer, that the party offering such stamps should be known somewhere, particularly in the town in which he has resided, as a stamp collector? If this fact is established by the prospective buyer it would be an easy matter to find out from collectors in the same town if the party concerned really was a collector who might have acquired the fine lot of stamps offered, in a legitimate manner, such as having collected them over a period of years.

In brief, find out of the party offering the stamps was legitimately possessed of the stamps.

Knowing what we know about the Tampa and San Francisco thefts we feel certain that had this procedure been followed the stamps would not have been purchased by the dealers who bought them. We believe further that after these dealers found out the exact status of the parties offering them they should have reported it to the proper authorities. They should have had every reason to believe that the persons making the offers were not known collectors or dealers who may be have rightfully come into possession of them.

This is a very simple matter. Any collector having such a line of stamps as were involved in this instance would naturally be known to others. We doubt if there is any similar lot held by anyone who is not known to other collectors or dealers and who could legitimately show proper ownership of said stamps.

We also feel certain that when a fine lot of stamps is stolen the thieves could not prove legitimate ownership, thus they could not find a buyer for the stolen stamps.

This plan could produce the desired results. If the persons offering the stamps were rightfully possessed of them a sale could result. If they could not establish rightful possession, then they should be reported to proper authorities and an investigation should result.

To make this plan work it would be necessary that as complete a description as possible of all stamps stolen should be filed with the ASDA. These reports should be kept for an indefinite period or if stamps were recovered the files could be removed. Also it would require the complete cooperation of every stamp dealer.

We know of course that dealers are eager to buy fine material. However, they should not let that eagerness overcome their desire and wish to help catch thieves who have stolen stamps.

Somebody Has Been Lying To Us

The following is clipped from the Editorial column of the Chicago Daily Sun Times of September 4 and kindly sent to us by R. H. Peterson of Chicago.

"Ichabad!

"Being a little hard up for cash, Britain is toying with the idea of printing some special postage stamp issues more or less for the benefit of stamp collectors. The Division of Political and Economic Planning suggested that the stamp collectors might help balance the budget with their purchases or at least help out the petty cash account. The London Times is horrified. This is what it had to say:

"Ichabad! Glory will indeed have departed when we have to come to this. Have we not for generations rather looked down on those small countries that had to resort to such devices, and taken pride in the fact that Great Britain disdained to turn something essentially useful into a collector's toy or a gewgaw?

"And rightly so. We may have economic difficulties; we are not yet as hard up as all that. The postmaster general . . . is the head of a great government department, not of a fancy goods store."

"Well now, old chappies, there's no call to work up such a sweat. If you want to talk the government out of putting out special collector's stamps, just point to one of the small countries that have done so. Such as the United States. Last year, there were 18 special stamp issues. And so far this year we have had 13.

"And you know what? The post office loses money, anyway. Something like £200,000,000 a year. Makes the stamp collectors happy, but doesn't balance the budget."

Other reports of proposals in Great Britain for the issuing of more stamps to help get more money for the Government have been reported and discussed in the Philatelic Press.

The London Times seems somewhat upset over the idea and in commenting on it refers to the United States as one of the "small countries" that have practiced this plan. Over here we usually refer to Lichtenstein as a very small country.

Newspaper Editor At Toronto Stamp Club

The North Toronto, Canada, Stamp Club will have as guest speaker at its October 24 meeting the stamp column editor of the Toronto "Star" newspaper, James Montagnes. Area collectors are invited to attend.

The club has considerably improved its monthly bulletin, with the current issue containing suggestions about planning the annual exhibition, general chit-chat on members and doin's, and some comment on insurance on stamp collections.

Other clubs interested in this angle might well query secretary R. C. Sellens, 50 Dunblaine Ave., Toronto, Canada, for details of just how the insurance plan operates.

The club meets on second and fourth Thursdays in the North Toronto Y. M. C. A. at 8:30 p. m., with a 7:30 "open door" to permit trading and talking.

NASPEX Show Looms Successful

The fabulous new Island Garden Arena on Hempstead Turnpike, West Hempstead, Long Island, will be the scene of the large and well planned NASPEX stamp exhibition scheduled for October 25-27. This is the largest arena on Long Island, holding up to 50,000 people.

The big event is the result of the combined effort of the 16 clubs comprising the Nassau Suffolk Philatelic Alliance. Some 250 frames of stamps will be shown, embracing many prize winning collections. Included also will be sections for juniors and Veterans Hospital collectors.

The UN, the Post Office Department and other philatelic institutions will provide displays, and the Post Office will operate a branch post office with a slogan cancellation for the affair. Cacheted envelopes and seals are available at 10c each or 3 for 25c, ordered from Mary Bazley, 17 Raff Ave., Floral Park, N. Y.

Trophies will be awarded to winners and runners-up in 13 different classifications. Space is provided for booths for 40 dealers to afford collectors wide and extensive opportunities to add to their collections. Free gifts and door prizes will be provided in quantity.

Admission charges of 25c for children and 50c for adults will be made, and the sponsors have distributed 25,000 special junior discount tickets at 15c to many youth organization in the area. A very strong effort is being made, they say, to attract these collectors of tomorrow.

For the adult visitors a propaganda letterhead size leaflet is provided, listing all clubs in the area and presenting a strong case both for stamp collecting in general as a hobby and for joining a member club for fellowship and enjoyment.

1958 German Postal Stationery Catalog

For the first time since 1938, collectors of German postal stationery are able to obtain a modern catalog in their field. Neuer Ganzsachen-Katalog (New Catalog of Postal Stationery) has just been issued by the Berlin Postal Stationery Collectors' Assn., captioned as Part III, section 1. It covers envelopes, wrappers and letter cards up to 1945, and postcards up to 1918, of Wurttemberg and the German Empire.

The booklet is 126 pages, 6x8, stitched in paper binding. Although a new work, it has followed as closely as possible the numbering of the older Ascher catalog, to avoid confusion. It was edited by Walter Beckhaus, a recognized authority in the field.

This catalog is not available on the general market, but must be ordered from the special sales agent abroad, Werner Hauenstein, Berlin N. 65, Muellerstrasse 47a, Germany. The price is 6.50 marks, with registration if desired 50 pfennings extra, or 7 marks in all. Remittance can be made by international money order, bank draft or certified check; the mark equals 25c U. S.

26th Year

OLIVER R. MOWERY

Clarks Summit, Pennsylvania

By CARL P. RUETH

There is an annual reminder which I like to make here each year at this time for it eventually results in adding a mite of happiness to various folks. It is the preparation and mailing of Christmas gifts and cards to your family and friends around the globe.

No matter how expeditiously the post office handles your items, it still takes a fair amount of time and effort to get them to the near and far corners of the world. As for instance if you have things to go to Australia, the Middle East and Asia, you should have them in your post office by the end of this month.

This is for packages sent parcel post, and greetings and letters sent by surface mail. Anything to go by air should be sent on its way no later than the first week in December.

All the far away places which ordinarily take 25c for the airmail fee, plus South America, ought to go by October 31. Europe, Central America and their adjacent regions no later than the third week in November. Canada, Mexico, Cuba and several of the larger West Indies island nations by December 10.

It all boils down to the thought that if you are going to the expense and trouble of remembering someone with a gift for Christmas, then for heavens sake go all the way - get it to him or her before the big day. Bright packages and kind thoughts aren't near so meaningful when your carelessness causes them to arrive late.

1. Give the denominations of the Liberty Series for regular postage on which the portraits of these persons appear - Wilson, Marshall, Lee and Anthony.

2. Mitchell Pass and Scotts Bluff are to be seen on what commems?

In the September 30 U.S. Notes I wrote that the first day hand cancel which had the name of Lafayette College between the killer bars was applied only at the college post office.

A.J. LeBourdais of North Cambridge, Mass. tells me that is not true. The college wording cancel as well as the usual were both available at the regular Easton, Pa. post office and were applied to first day covers as requested by collectors.

He has sent me an FDC which has one of the La Fayette commems postmarked with the Lafayette College type and one stamp with the regular. These are on the face on one cover.

Mr. LeBourdais further states that the cacheted covers prepared by Lafayette College for sale to interested persons were not made available to dealers at discounted prices.

To save some of you from making a similar error of execution I'd like to cite the experience of a reader. I'll bet he never thought of the simple approach he could have used to save himself time and perhaps some trouble.

He liked the October 7 column on stamp identification using its suggestions as a start to classifying some "look-alike" U.S. issues he had of the 1908-1920 era. Many of them were the 2c carmines and 1c greens, both showing Washington, all on cover.

He soaked them off and then began his checking to place them in a correct category. He felt this was the only way he could do that task.

What he should have done was to check the date of each postmark to note perhaps, if it was a first day cover. Then with a perforation gauge made of clear plastic, which can measure stamps affixed to the envelope, he should have carefully measured the perfs. Next, if identification demanded it, he should have measured the design to determine whether it was a flat press or rotary press product. This, of course, can also be decided 98% of the time after the stamp is removed from the paper.

Finally, the date of the postmark should have been noted. This would help because of the fact that certain stamps did not appear before a certain date. If the date of cancellation is earlier than the actual release date of a stamp of later vintage, then it is impossible to be one of the later ones and it narrows the field of placement.

Just don't be in a rush to soak "look-alike" designs off until you have checked them on the paper. You might be able to save time and head-scratching.

Some months ago the Post Office Department announced that the FIPEX souvenir sheet would go off sale at the end of May. This item, containing one copy each of the 3c and 8c Liberty stamps, was issued the opening day of the great International Philatelic Exhibition in New York City on April 28, 1956.

The original announcement stated that a total of 10 million would be manufactured.

The Department has announced that the sale amounted to 2,900,731 sheets. Actually only 9,802,025 were printed. Destroyed after May 31 were 6,901,294.

There are a few thoughts one can express after seeing those figures. The first and most obvious, and one which has been held by many experienced in the hobby, is that a relatively few people will spend more than 3c for a stamp for their collections. Once you get a denomination over that figure all kinds of howls arise. I know I get many letters when a 5c, 6c or 8c commem is to come.

Writers call the POD robbers and inconsiderate of their best interests, which is not true at all. They're just too tight, or have too large appetites for their purses.

Another conclusion one might draw, and one which I have held for a long, long time, is that there aren't more than 200,000 actual money-spending ($100 a year or more) collectors in our hobby.

I would differentiate here between the collectors and the "investors". There are quite a few citizens who will buy one or more panes of each new commem and put them away for the "big profits" to come in several years. We have a number of such misguided souls in our town and they account for a lot of the money spent at Postmaster Bill Swonger's stamp windows.

Every town has them - the lambs who will get their wool burned off some day when they want to sell!

The FIPEX souvenir sheet was a 11c item. A fair quantity of them were used intact or cut apart for postage - perhaps there are 1½ million of them mint and intact. I think in a few years these are going to be nice property. Here we can use hindsight and feel rather confident that this is an "investment" item which was overlooked by the get-rich-off-of-stamps boys who were too tight to put any money in a piece which cost 11c a throw.

Jimmy Tanning of New York City saved the day for me in regard to the La Fayette stamp. He sent along one of the souvenir programs to which the commem was affixed and cancelled at Easton, Pa. September 6, the release date.

It isn't one of the large size programs usually concocted for such events. It's about one-third that size and attractive.

In connection with the La Fayette the total of first day covers cancelled was in aggregate about twice the usual quantity. Most were postmarked at Easton, Pa.; Fayetteville, N.C. came next and Louisville, Ky. third.

Multiple first day cities, where warranted, should be a welcome innovation.

TWA Makes Foreign Meeting Of People To People Possible; Garden Club Stamp In March

Ernest A. Kehr

President Dwight D. Eisenhower's "People-to-People" program literally got off the ground on October 2, when Trans-World Airlines enabled twenty of the project's volunteer leaders to meet with Europeans and plot ways and means to put plans into action.

TWA invited the group to fly one of its Jetstream Constellations on the inaugural flight of its New York-to-Rome non-stop service.

In the Eternal City three seminar sessions were arranged so that the Americans each one of whom heads a special committee, might meet a group of Europeans who have similar intentions. Until they met at Rome and planned to put paper plans into concrete action, People-to-People was little more than an idea through which it was hoped the world's citizenry might develop the kind of understanding and friendship which must lead to world peace.

The first seminar was held in the American Embassy. Various foreign service officers briefed the visitors on the various problems which would have to be taken into consideration in order to make projected plans operative and effective.

At the following meetings all representatives were extremely frank and most cooperative in finding a way to establish "at grass root levels" a relationship with people in other lands.

The meetings were chairmanned by Charles E. Wilson, former president of General Electric and president of People-to-People, Inc. Under him are chairmen of 42 different committees representing professions, trades and avocations, each of which will try to get their followers to communicate with or personally visit foreign neighbors with like interests.

So far only one of the committees actually has done active work. More than two years ago, a national advisory committee was established in New York to put on an international scale, a world-wide Letter Writing Week such as was initiated in the United States twenty years ago and which since had been attempted in several overseas countries.

Last March, a resolution proposed by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield was presented to the Executive and Liaison Committee of the Universal Postal Union, seconded by the Soviet Union and unanimously passed. It subsequently was presented to the entire UPU membership at the Ottawa Congress and again unanimously passed in August.

Because there was too little time, only a few countries which had previously indorsed the idea, were in a position to take an active part in the first ILWW from October 6 to 12.

Germany, the Saar and Colombia all issued special stamps for the occasion; Switzerland, Austria, Belgium and the Netherlands prepared distinctive postal markings for the week.

Because stamp collectors already were recognized as prolific letter writers, the ILWW committee asked the writer to develop this aspect of the program. A number of American stamp clubs agreed to exchange stamps and letters with similar groups abroad. Letters Abroad, Inc., of New York presently is handling individual requests for the names and addresses of persons overseas who would like to participate.

While all of the committees gave "progress reports of what they anticipated doing," the comments of H. L. Lindquist, chairman of the P-to-P program's Hobbies Committee, revealed philatelic news that had not even been reported in Washington.

Attending the meeting while returning from Tev Aviv, Mr. Lindquist revealed that he personally had secured the support and cooperation of some 600,000 members of the Garden Clubs Federation. The federation, it seems had requested a stamp to honor its work here, but had gotten little encouragement until they discussed the matter with him. As a member of the recently formed "Post Office Department Advisory Committee, Mr. Lindquist persuaded the Postmaster General to authorize the stamp and thereby got the federation's agreement to participate in the People-to-People program. The stamp will be a commemorative and will be issued on March 15, 1958, at Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y.

Following the seminars, TWA arranged a banquet attended by the Mayor of Rome, American Ambassador to Italy James D. Zellerbach, and a host of other dignitaries. Gordon Gilmore, vice president of TWA was toastmaster. With an eloquence that kept guests spellbound, the Roman Mayor said that the P-to-P meeting was the greatest thing to come to Europe since VE-Day and promised more hope for his own nation and other Europeans than "all the conference tables now trying to create peace through political horse-trading."

Cuban Stamp To Mark 1927 Flight

A special Cuban airmail stamp, commemorating Pan American World Airways' first flight 30 years ago between Havana and Key West, Fla., is being made available to collectors and stamp enthusiasts.

Through arrangements made by PAA with Cuban and U. S. postal authorities, collectors may obtain appropriately cacheted covers, cancelled in Havana on October 28, the anniversary date, and backstamped at either Key West or Miami.

Collectors should send 20c (U. S. coin) for each cover to Pan American World Airways, Mail Superintendent, P. O. Box 817, Miami 48, Fla. The envelopes addressed to PAA also should contain the cover that is to be returned to the sender. All envelopes must be received in Miami not later than midnight October 24.

The flight 30 years ago over 110 miles of sea inaugurated airmail service between Cuba and the U. S. It was the first overseas flight by a U.S. flag carrier and set the stage for the virtual shuttle service PAA operates today between Havana and Miami.

The special stamp bears the inscription: "Key West-Habana, inauguration correo aereo October 28, 1927." Depicted on it are Cuba, the lower part of the Florida peninsula and the plane that made the first flight, a Fokker F-VII plane with the PAA insignia.

PAA has cooperated with philatelists for years and many collectors have first flight covers commemorating the opening of PAA routes to countries in all parts of the world. In the present instance, due to short notice, collectors should airmail their covers to Pan American in Miami to avoid risk of disappointment.

Notes From Israel

Pierson Ostrow

The great TABIL show at Tel Aviv is now over, but the philatelic souvenirs emanating from it are still being distributed to collectors the world over, including the world's first "Postal Card Souvenir Sheet".

Cards in Sheet Form

The sheet consists of a 120 pruta postal card and another of 220pr. value, with inscription around three sides of the sheet and a serial number at the bottom. The imprinted postal card stamps are rather crude, showing a globe and stylized wing.

At the lower left of each card is a vignette; the 120pr. shows a 1948 printing press, while the higher value shows the new 1957 press. The marginal inscription reads "ESPOSITION INTERNATIONALE DE TIMBRES-POSTE, TEL AVIV 17-23 SEPTEMBRE 1957/TABIL 1957" in French, with a repetition of the same inscription in Hebrew. First day of sale was September 19.

The souvenir stamp sheet itself will by now have received wide circulation, but brief comment on its design should still be of interest. The mosaic which it reproduces was found in 1928 near other ruins known only by the Arab name of "Kirbat Beit Ilfa", in the vicinity of the Jewish settlement, which had Hebraized that name into "Beit Alfa".

The work is part of the floor of an ancient Hebrew synagogue, and the portion of the mosaic which makes up the stamps shows Helios in a sun chariot at the center, surrounded by a Zodiac, with symbols for the four seasons of the year at the four corners.

The "art" is crudely done, for depictions of human and animal figures were frowned on by the ancient Jews, who took seriously the Biblical injunction, "Thou shalt not make . . . any likeness of any thing that is in the . . . earth . . ." The Beit Alfa mosaics therefore rank high in the scale of Hebrew art finds.

An inscription in Aramaic and Greek identifies the artists as "Marianos" and his son "Aninas" and dates the work during the reign of the Roman Emperor Justinian (518-527 A.D.). A further inscription adds, "May the craftsmen who carried out this work, Marianos and his son Hanina, be held in remembrance."

A Clever Maximum Card

In conjunction with the issuance of the TABIL sheet, a cleverly done set of maximum cards was privately created. There are four of them, each reproducing in yellow the Zodiac section of the mosaic. Into each of the cards, a separate triangular TABIL stamp was inserted, so that the complete set of cards shows each of the proper place around the Zodiac.

Short Life for Recent Airsheets

The two airsheets on blue-green paper issued back on May 20 have had a short life and will bear watching. On August 18 they were replaced with new sheets of similar denominations but on a different type of paper—150pr. brown on rose and 250pr. green on green. Apparently the May 20 issue was on paper that did not lend itself well to actual use, being too smooth in texture.

A Birthday and Two Meetings

Several other events of interest have been honored recently in Israel, but by cancellations rather than stamps.

On July 28 the Second International Congress of Jewish Studies met in the Binyanei Ha'Ooma (Convention Center) at Jerusalem. A Special cancel was issued in its honor. The meeting was featured by an address by Yigal Yadin, who is both the head of the Israeli Army and, in his own right, an ardent and respected archeologist.

President Ben Gurion also addressed the Congress, pointing out to the delegates that Israel is the only Mid-East land where the original Biblical language survives. It represents, said the President, 4000 years of unbroken cultural tradition.

On August 12 a special pictorial cancel honored the founding, 75 years ago, of the now-thriving town of Rishon Leziyyon, which received its start thanks to the endowment by Baron Rothschild of the "Societe Cooperative Vigneronne" of wine growers. Today, Rishon is noted as a wine growing region. In fact, when the special cancel went into use, a prominent wine company distributed its own souvenir.

This was a card which reproduced an ancient mosaic showing early Hebrews carrying the fabulous cluster of grapes which Joshua's spies brought back to him "out of the land of Canaan". The card was framed, appropriately, with the 1954 Festival stamp (Scott

No. 8), which resembles the mosaic, and cancelled with the special Anniversary cancellation.

A third event of interest is the annual sports meet, or Maccabiade, which was held this year in Ramat Gan, September 15-24. A special pre-Maccabiade advertising cancel was used in Haifa, Jerusalem and Tel Aviv from August 21. When the games opened at Ramat Gan, a variation of the cancellation went into use there.

Nine nations participated in the games, with a contingent of 60 Americans and Canadians. The Israeli athletes scored high, with 226 points, while the United States took second place with 197. The Americans swept the track and field events, winning 11 of 20 events and placing second in 8 more.

Finally, a new post office was opened, on July 10, in the little Arab Village of Tamra, in the Emek Yezreel area.

Everyone Makes Mistakes . . .

But the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, printer of all United States stamps, employs inspectors to make certain their mistakes never reach the collector, who is always on the watch for post office flubs.

Occasionally a sheet of these errors does get through, and then everyone has fun. We have come upon a very limited quantity of postal goofs, and so that even the most budget-minded collector may own one, here is a never-to-be-repeated offer:

2 U. S. ERRORS FOR $1.00

One for Real - One for Laughs

- #1. A genuine unused U. S. stamp, badly overinked, underinked, smeared or improperly perforated. An honest-to-goodness goof by the Post Office.
- #2. To go along with it, a hilarious reprint of the world famous 24c inverted airmail, mounted on a specially designed card inscribed: "Disaster in the Air — The Graphic Account of What Happened When that Plane Turned Over."

We have only a very small supply of the real errors, so make no mistake about it — send a dollar today.

Sporting Art On Stamps Featured

"Sporting Art And The Postage Stamp" is the featured article in the September-October "Fine Arts Philatelist" magazine. This article by Ira Seebacher draws attention to the large number of sport stamps which have been based on famous works of art, such as the Lion Hunt on Russia's International Persian Art Exposition set of 1953, and the Diogenes of Rhodes on the Greek definitive issue of 1937.

The annotated checklist of the visual fine arts, which is the backbone of this bulletin, completes the stamps of Germany. It is interesting to note, in this connection, that although little of the information in this issue is attributed to persons in other countries, a good survey has been made of the country's art stamps. It has been noticed in the past that frequently the postal authorities and museums have aided the editors in gathering information for the stamps of their particular countries, making these bulletins an encyclopedia of information on art stamps.

In addition to giving information concerning the design on the stamp, philatelic information is also given, making it a simple matter for everyone to understand which stamp is being described. The price of these bulletins remains at $1 per calendar year, with sample copies for 25c in coin or stamps. For further information about them write Beatrice Berner, Apt. 8-H, 200 E. 36th St., New York 16, N.Y.

Checklist, Vatican FD's, U. S. Cachets

The current issue of "FIRST DAYS", official organ of the American First Day Cover Society, contains several articles of interest to FD collectors.

One is a definitive checklist of Vatican City first days, and a second is a catalog of U.S. FD cachets. Others are a study of the UNEF reprints of the United Nations, an excellent discussion of the problem of wide margins on plate blocks on FD U. S. covers, a section for juniors, and a question and answer corner.

A sample copy is obtainable for 10c, from the editor, Gerald H. Strauss, 7205 Hanford St., Philadelphia 49, Pa.

Kingsford-Smith "Twins" From Antipodes

Maj. R. C. Dettman of Australia reports that country and New Zealand are combining in an unusual tribute to the memory of the late Capt. Charles E. Kingsford-Smith. He and his famous plane, "Southern Cross" blazed many a pioneer air trail "in the old days", including the first flight across the Tasman Sea from Australia to New Zealand, September 19, 1928.

The two issues, release date not yet revealed, will be identical in design save for the name of the issuing country. They will show the airman and his almost legendary "Southern Cross".

Ship Cancel Society Award To PNI Birdy

The Universal Ship Cancellation Society has just presented its Certificate of Merit to Charles W. Birdy PNI, of the U. S. S. "RANGER" CVA 61. The award was made in recognition and appreciation of Mr. Birdy's long and excellent effort to help collectors of naval postmarks, and in further tribute to his fine design of the cachet used aboard the "RANGER" on Commissioning Day.

This society specializes, as its name implies, in the cancellations and postal markings of all varieties of ships. Membership is wide and cosmopolitan, with both land-lubbers who merely dream of ships, as well as many who go down to the sea in them, using the organization as a common meeting ground.

The "USCS Log" is the official publication of the group, and copies of it as well as information about joining the group can be obtained from editor Alfred H. Dowle, 828 Curtis St., Downers Grove, Ill.

REMONSTRANCE

Hodshone) whom public sentiment finally forced "Wooden Leg" to release. This last incident took place in New Amsterdam (New York City).

Some two weeks later, across the Sound in Flushing, Long Island, another highly respected citizen, Henry Townsend, was convicted of holding Quaker meetings in his house, and given the alternative of paying a fine of 8 pounds Flemish or being flogged and banished.

Worse still, from the official viewpoint, the town officers of Flushing not only refused to impose the sentence but also drew up and signed a formal protest against the entire procedure and its background. Edward Hart, town clerk, and thirty other English and Dutch citizens signed it—and paid for their belief that freedom is something not only to be claimed, but also to be given.

Hart spent three weeks in jail—and it was no modern "pokey" with cross ventilation, steam heat, hot meals and TV. The two justices of the peace who signed were suspended from office and the sheriff was cashiered and condemned either to pay 200 guilders and costs or to be banished from the colony.

Various other penalties were inflicted upon some of the other signers, and "Old Wooden Leg" thumped merrily on for a while. (In due time news of his activities reached the home government abroad and official wrath—polite but sufficient to turn him about—descended upon him. Freedom of worship was ever after unquestioned in the colony.)

In its way, and in its own modest sphere of influence, this "Flushing Remonstrance" was the "declaration of independence" of religious worship in the New World.

"The law of love, peace, and liberty, extending in the state to Jews, Turks, and Egyptians, forms the true glory of Holland; so love, peace, and liberty, extending to all in Christ Jesus, condemn hatred, strife, and bondage. But inasmuch as the Saviour hath said that it is impossible that scandal shall not come, but woe unto him by whom it cometh, we desire not to offend one of His little ones, under whatever form, name, or title he appear, whether Presbyterian, Independent, Baptist, or Quaker . . . Should any of these people come in love among us, therefore, we cannot in conscience lay violent hands on them. We shall give them free ingress and egress to our houses, as God shall persuade our consciences." In so doing, the signers said, they were convinced that they were conforming to the law of God, to the spirit of their charter, and to the wishes of the States General.

Considering the times and the usual harshness visited upon non-conformists, the reply of the governing Amsterdam Chamber in the Netherlands merits mention, to quote from the rebuke subsequently directed to and at Stuyvesant:

" . . . The consciences of men ought to be free and unshackled, so long as they continue moderate, peaceable, inoffensive, and not hostile to government. Such have been the maxims (of the Netherlands government) and the consequences have been, that the oppressed and persecuted from every country have found among us an asylum from distress. Follow in the same steps, and you will be blest."

So comes, December 27, the 300th anniversary of the Flushing Remonstrance, to a nation which has fared rather well by adhering to the principle therein proclaimed.

Got your album open at the Fiji page? Good, then let's proceed with our discussion of last week. Most British colonies have at least one map stamp; Fiji has several of type A27 (Scott's Nos. 120, 123, 129, 129B, 130 and 154), some of which turned out to be spectacular buys for those who bought them as new issues for a few cents each.

The artist managed to fit only the principal islands into the small space allotted to this map. Aside from numerous smaller islands, there are also Rotuma, about 250 miles to the north and rather isolated—a steamer calls but four times a year—and Kandavu, about 75 south of the main island of Viti Levu.

The capital city of Suva, population about 40,000, is located on the latter. There are no other communities of any notable size, the next largest communities of Lautoka and Vatuakula numbering less than 4000 residents each. The islands comprising the Colony of Fiji occupy a central position in the southwestern Pacific. Suva is about 2000 miles by air from Sydney, 1300 from Auckland, 3200 from Honolulu and 5600 from San Francisco.

The archipelago includes over 300 islands, and they vary greatly in size. About a hundred of them are inhabited, while many others are used by the Fijians either for the planting of food or for temporary residence during the turtle-fishing season. The total land area of the colony is 7,040 square miles, more than half being in the principal island, Viti Levu.

All the larger islands are of volcanic origin, some having been formed under the sea and subsequently uplifted. There were later periods of volcanism which did much to shape the present land forms, but activity has long ceased.

In general, the volcanic islands are rugged, with sharp peaks and crags, overlooking steep-sided valleys. But there are also wide areas of rich alluvial land, for most of the rivers have built extensive deltas.

Of the smaller islands, a surprising number are formed wholly or partly of limestone. These have generally a flat-topped profile, with steep shore cliffs that terminate in level-crested ridges screening a central depression. Wherever the rock is exposed, it is deeply honeycombed or eroded into sharp needles or pinnacles, so be careful before you sit down.

Coral reefs surround practically all the islands, some being fringing reefs attached to the land, others barrier reefs standing some distance off shore with lagoons of calm water between.

The most notable of the barriers is the Great Sea Reef. It extends as a western wall for 350 miles and encloses wide areas of shallow coral-strewn sea.

Mountain ranges of moderate height lie across the path of the prevailing winds, and all the larger islands show a marked difference between their windward and leeward sides. The windward slopes enjoy a copious rainfall, well distributed throughout the year. Their flat lands lie deep in grass and cultivated crops; their foothills and higher slopes are smothered under a dense growth of tropical rain forest.

The leeward areas, on the other hand, have well defined wet and dry seasons and are covered with grass and reeds, a few scattered shrubs and hardy trees, although there are patches of forest on the higher peaks and in well-watered gullies.

Viti Levu (4,011 square miles) is roughly oval in shape, the main watershed lying along its north-south axis, with the wet zone to the east and the dry zone to the west. The interior is mountainous and contains 29 peaks of over 3,000 feet, the highest being Mt. Victoria (4,341 feet).

The principal rivers include the Rewa, which with its tributaries drains the windward or wet part of the island, and the Sigatoka and Ba, both in the dry zone. The Rewa is navigable by small craft for a distance of 70 miles, its lower reaches being much used for the transport of sugar-cane and other produce.

The coasts are fringed with fertile flats which run far back along the river valleys or fan out in level deltas. It is on these lowlands that the majority of the people are settled, many of them being engaged in growing sugar-cane, others in mixed or subsistence farming.

Most of the secondary industries are established at Suva but the important goldmining industry is located near the north coast.

Vanua Levu (2,137 square miles) ranks as the second island in order of size, and possesses valuable natural resources, although with the exception of the sugar and copra industries, development has hitherto not been on a large scale. Timber is milled on the inland slopes of the main dividing range, and gold was formerly mined at Yanawai, near the south coast.

Of the smaller islands, Taveuni (168 square miles) is well styled the Garden of Fiji on account of its deep rich soil and highly developed plantations. Kadavu (169 square miles) is the first landfall for ships and planes approaching Suva from the South, and it offers to the visitor attractive and unspoiled scenery typical of the South Seas.

Ovalau, off the east coast of Viti Levu, is rich in historical associations centered around Levuka, which was the early capital of the Colony and is still an important distribution port and an educational center.

The island of Makogai, within sight of Levuka is widely known on account of its leprosy hospital, which serves a large area of the South Pacific.

Suva, the principal town and the capital of the colony, is situated in the south-east of Viti Levu, on a peninsula fronting a spacious harbor on the one side and a seaplane base on the other.

The town of Lautoka, on the northwest coast, is the most important sugar-milling center and the port from which most of the raw sugar produced in the colony is exported.

The climate of Fiji is governed chiefly by the marginal position that the islands occupy within the tropics, and by the vast expanse of sea with which they are surrounded. The effect of the sea is to moderate the temperature and since wind from any direction comes from the sea, the breeze is always cool and pleasant. Human comfort is, indeed, largely a matter of ventilation, and only on calm days are heat and humidity oppressive.

The prevailing winds are the trades, but in this area they are easterly rather than southeasterly, and neither so strong nor so constant as they are farther to the east. During the hot season from December to March light variable winds press over the Fiji islands, often bringing torrential rains with them so that during this season the "dry" sides of the islands may be wetter than the "wet".

While temperatures seldom rise above 90°, the humidity frequently measures 90-100 percent which makes this hardly the ideal winter vacation spot for American tourists spoiled by modern airconditioning. Tropical cyclones strike at least some part of the colony almost every year, but long periods may elapse between such visitations in any given locality.

We have sufficient material on Fiji for two or three additional columns so that those readers who are still shivering from our last visit to the Falkland Islands Dependencies will really be able to thaw out!

See you next week!

Collectors are queer in that most of them are slaves to the catalog. When Gibbons dropped Egypt from its Commonwealth volume and inserted it in the "rest of the world" one, prices came tumbling down as British Colonial collectors ceased collecting the country's issues and dumped their holdings for what they could get. The result is that Egyptian material, no less interesting by any means than a decade ago, now sells for a fraction of its old price and is almost dead stock in any British dealer's hands, and that Egyptian lots, which have been offered in large number in British sales the last few years, can be had at unbelievably low prices sale after sale.

Set makers are often up against it getting enough copies of an odd value to make the set complete, at least to the designated top value. It so happens that the George VI 1c Kenya is relatively scarce both mint and used, since there was little use for that denomination. The result is that London wholesalers are offering 50% over face to get supplies sufficient to fill in their sets. Similarly, the 7½d George VI Australian stamp, normally employed only on single-weight foreign letters, is almost unprocureable in quantities used, and fetches as much as 2/3 face from wholesalers marketing sets.

Back in the 90's, the 3c Columbian was the scarce one and to get copies enough to make up sets through the 10c which he was then exporting to Germany, an Alexandria, Va. florist, J. Murray Bartels, who later became a famous New York dealer, stuck quantities of them onto envelopes addressed to himself and ran them through the Alexandria post office to get them cancelled. He had a few dozen to spare, ultimately, and the entire covers bearing them, addressed in his characteristic handwriting, are still encountered on occasion after all these years. As postal items they make no sense at all, for the letter rate had been reduced from 3c to 2c some years before, and these lone threes, cancelled Alexandria, always puzzle newcomers who don't know their interesting history.

Incidentally, in Europe dealers don't even bother to put low values onto envelopes to get them regularly used—they just have them cancelled by the sheet. That's why so many sets of used issues one buys have low denomination copies bearing the telltale neat corner cancellation (one cancellation per block of 4 to the sheet) and all too often the original gum that the set maker has been too lazy to wash off. So watch your low values! Genuinely used copies are worth several times what the cancelled-to-order ones are.

There is vast overproduction of First Day covers here in the USA. After they begin to clutter up the office, most any dealer is glad to accept half face in quantity lots—offers frequently made in wholesaler, literature and by satchel dealers making the rounds. Other dealers simply tear the corners off the surplus dead stock covers, soak the stamps free and then sell them as superbly used copies. A very substantial number of unwanted FDCs end up that way. Lots of collectors do this too when they find it impossible to move duplicate material or the collections they have gotten tired of.

Of course, with this keeping up year after year, surviving covers may have real market value in 50 or 60 years. Remember that unused Columbians could be had for 20% below face up to about 1920 since large numbers of people who had bought them for investment found it impossible to get their money back and finally dumped them for what they could get. Most of the superb mint blocks of the dollar Columbians one "Ohs" and "ahs" over today cost their owners, now in middle or late life, less than face when acquired a generation ago.

The original purchasers lost staggering sums through loss of interest on their investment and then having ultimately to sell below face because the market was glutted with such merchandise.

There was high philatelic excitement in Colombo, Ceylon while we were there over Sir Ernest de Silva having presented the Hind un-used 1d Post Office Mauritius (only two known) to the Young Men Buddhist's Assn. for sale by that organization (the counterpart of our own YMCA), the proceeds to go into its general treasury. Sir Ernest heads the Bank of Ceylon and has a fabulous collection of that country's issues. Harmer of London is to market the stamp by auction and you should learn how much it has brought about the time you read this.

Later — it was sold to 2 British dealers for $4,500 sterling.

A.A. Rosenblum of Australia is wholesaling Commonwealth issues and kiloware collected by the Women of the University Fund organization in behalf of relief work among Hungarian children. Substantial shipments of clothing and considerable sums of money derived from the sale of this philatelic material have already been sent out. The Melbourne women are going about this in a big way and are gathering huge lots of stamps via church congregations, clubs and lodges throughout Victoria. One sees appeals and collection boxes in many places.

Moorabbin, Victoria is a truck-gardening center some ten miles southeast of Melbourne, the Victorian metropolis. It is well-known philatelicly in Australia because of a dealer's 7% above face Australia and territories new issue service which operates from there. Don't ask me how it can do—low overhead, probably, since London firms complain that at twice that rate, their new issue services barely break even and are carried largely for their advertising value. As one often hears, "In Australia things are done differently."

Speaking of that scarcest of all "common" Australian 7d George

VI stamp normally used only on single weight surface mail letters abroad, I note from the current Commonwealth post office report that only about 1½ million copies a year are needed to meet all requirements. Now one understands why copies are never seen in dealer stocks down here—most of them are used up on mail overseas and have to be repatriated, which is pretty tough when such small quantities are involved. Controlled mail operators down here could certainly clean up big by concentrating on that value and letting all others, which can be had on every hand, take care of themselves.

The same, incidentally, occurred with the dollar Omahas. Ads in the stamp papers a generation ago were crowded with below face offers. Many banks and insurance companies regularly bought the dollar values of both issues for use as postage, discounting their mailing bills substantially thereby. One of the old-time London wholesalers we knew used to boast that he had 500 sets of used dollar value Columbians and as many sets of 50c, $1 and $2 Omahas in stock. When young Herman Herst made his first buying trip to Europe (he's just back from his 14th in 25 years), he picked up a parcel of several hundred fine used 50c Omahas from an open air stall dealer in Paris. When you're tempted to "invest" in unused USA sheets to put junior through college, remember that junior will probably be a grandfather before the stamps in question command any real market, for the simple reason that thousands like yourself are doing the same uninspired thing and that all of you will be lucky ever to get even face for your holdings.

New Lebanese Definitives

To replace the makeshift re-drawing of old designs which characterized the current '56-'57 definitives, the Lebanese Post Office Department has prepared a new 1957-1958 series in the following quantities: 1/2 piaster, 4 million; 1pi., 2 million; 2 1/2pi., 3 million; 5pi., 2 million (all small, "Presidential" size and presumably Cedars of Lebanon); 7 1/2pi. and 10pi., 1 million each; 12 1/2pi. (for inland first class rate), 3 million; 25pi., (which pays the registry fee except for a 5pi., revenue stamp for the receipt), 1 million; 50pi., 1 million; and the 100pi., or 1 Lebanese pound high value, 100,000 only.

From 7 1/2pi., to 100pi., the stamps will be "commemorative" size in one or two designs.

Airmail values are 5 and 10pi., 1 million each; 15 and 20pi., 1 1/2 million each; 25pi., 1/2 million; 35pi., 1 million; 50pi., 1/2 million; 65pi., 1 million; and 100pi., 100,000 only. The reason for the greater number of 35 and 65pi. is that these two pay the basic airmail rate to Europe and the United States, respectively.

Designs have not yet been announced.

Lebanese stamps, until a few years ago, used to be issued only in the hundreds of thousands and rarely one million per value. The vast increase in yearly (instead of every two or three years, as before) stamp output is due to two factors:

1) Lebanon has one of the highest literacy rates in the world and graduates of her numerous schools and colleges engaged in a voluminous correspondence.

2) Lebanon is the most friendly Arab country to the West and there has been a gradual shift of headquarters of private and governmental institutions of the western world from Cairo to Beirut in the past year or two, coupled with a great influx of American and British nationals. When these two facts are put together with the inescapable results of Lebanon's own mushrooming correspondence in connection with her extensive commercial activities abroad and the correspondence between the 50% of her population which has emigrated to the West and the 50% remaining in Lebanon, it is easy to see how her stamp issues are steadily increasing in size and frequency.

Deterioration of Yemen Stamp Situation

The philatelic situation in Yemen has steadily gone from bad to worse since the last issue of this column. A progress report on various pending items previously mentioned is as follows:

1) The whole APU (Arab Postal Union) deal is "on ice" again. It is true that Postal Adviser Kablawy and Acting Minister of Communications Qadi al-Hajri attended the Congress in Libya and signed the convention for Yemen, it is true that Yemen's uniform APU stamps were printed in Cairo and delivered in Yemen. It is true that the other APU states announced Yemen's adherence to the convention over their state radio programs and in the press, together with the new reduced rates to Yemen. BUT, for some reason known only to himself, Yemen's ruler, H.M. the Imam Ahmad, has not ratified the convention.

In an absolute monarchy like Yemen, where there is no parliament, the sovereign's signature is the only form of ratification of international agreements at highest level. This may be partly due to His Majesty's health condition and to the fact that he rarely takes up any matters of state requiring careful study and extensive administrative reorganization such as the APU convention, nowadays. The crates of Yemen APU stamps which have been waiting patiently in Sana'a since last May, with their extra (1/2 million) quantity of 4 bogash "most-needed" adhesives, may be long delayed in appearing on the philatelic market—and they may not appear at all!

2) The air-letter and ordinary letter sheets (10 and 6 bogash respectively) in the "Leaning Minaret of Taiz" (1953) design, of which only about half (500 copies) of each were released last year, are still locked in the vaults under Sala Palace here in Taiz and there seems no chance of getting them out in the foreseeable future. The Imam came back to Taiz for the Great Muslim holidays of Great Bajram (the end of Ramadan) and al-Adha (the Feast of Abraham, marking the Pilgrimage season) in late April and is still here. But His Majesty's health is so bad that he has made only a half-dozen brief public appearances and has attended to only the most important matters of state, all in the maqam or capitol building, where there is a small residential palace attached.

He has not gone to suburban Sala Palace at all, and under the circumstances, no one can expect him to bother about going through all the red tape necessary to open the vaults merely to get out 1000 pieces of postal stationery which nobody in Yemen (except the writer, about three other philatelists, and the Postal Adviser) knows or cares about. After waiting patiently for eight months, I finally got my deposit (for 100 copies each) refunded and spent the sum on Ektachrome and Agfa color transparencies of the colorful festival processions and the beauties of springtime in the Yemen mountains.

3) Sana'a's stamp hoard remains more inaccessible than ever. I spent two months in Sana'a, from mid-April through mid-June this year and was unable to get any more varieties to put on covers than were available in the Taiz P.O.'s depleted stock. The reason is that the hoard is kept in the Post Office Department and not by the Sana'a Post Office. The crochety old Turkish keeper of the stamps, who has held that post since the second Ottoman occupation of Yemen ended in 1918 (and he still has mint Turkish adhesives available), is piqued because the writer and Adviser Kablawy have been trying to get an inventory taken, an accounting system inaugurated and a philatelic section set up.

So now it takes too much of a bribe or working unsatisfactorily through a second party, and increased premiums to get the more desirable items of the earlier issues, and I have decided to wait until the situation changes before stocking up on them again. Dealers who have been getting replacement stock through Mr. Kablawy will also find it more difficult if not impossible to get their orders serviced in the future.

4) There are no new issues in prospect, in spite of the urgent need for great quantities of 4 bogash definitives.

5) The postal authorities have not been able to find any more unwanted surpluses of 5 bogash stamps such as the last two provisionally issued as 4 bogash values and have fallen back on another and more horrible and illegible overprint on the supposedly obsolete 2 bogash French-printed Mokha coffee tree stamp of 1947.

This was a particularly sore point with me, as the keeper of the stamps has assured me, for the past four or five years, that the value was exhausted, leaving me with a complete set of sheets of all values of that set except the 2 bogash! And now to see it used by the hundred thousand copies under that defacing new overprint is adding insult to injury. The latter, by the way, has been written up and illustrated in a separate article for this paper.

That just about sums up the unsatisfactory nature of the philatelic situation in Yemen today. Postal Adviser Kablawy is so discouraged at the lack of action on all his postal reform and philatelic plans that he is talking of resigning and retiring to Lebanon on his pension as a Palestine mandate postmaster until 1948.

The least he will settle for is: 1) a postal audit bureau; 2) standard printed forms to be used by both post and telegraph in place of the little scraps of lined foolscap on which all business is transacted today; 3) standard cancellation devices with movable date rings obligatorily kept up to date; 4) a new issue policy adequate to keep the P.O.'s permanently stocked with an adequate number of 4 bogash and other most-needed-values; 5) an inventory of the Sana'a and Sala stamp hoards and the following disposition of same:

a) all complete sets to be set aside for a philatelic section, for sale at face or, in cases of great scarcity, at a small premium.

b) all odd-value remainders to be overprinted with attractive "pictorial" 4, 6 and 16 bogash cliches in colors (4 bog, mail truck, 6 bog, steamer and 16 bog, airplane, symbolic of the type of use to which the surcharged adhesives will be put)

c) all unoverprinted stamps from 1926 (the date of Yemen's first issue) up to the time of the mass overprinting to be declared invalid for prepayment of postage. This is necessary to stop the "loot stamp" racket. During the 1948 revolution, great quantities of the French-printed 1947 set (including all of the unused four higher values (6, 10, 20 bog, and 1 Imadi) and most of the postage due set of 1942 (used for ordinary prepayment of postage only, as there has never been a postage due system in Yemen) were stolen from the Post Office Department.

In addition to those smuggled abroad for philatelic sale, huge quantities remained in private hands in Sana'a and Taiz. These are occasionally sold to merchants and others at half face or less and are used by the public to defraud the post. Sometimes, when the particular value is obviously from the loot, it is necessary for holders of large quantities to make an accommodation with postal clerks or even to supply unethical postmasters (who have to buy their stock, cash in advance, from the Palace) at greatly reduced rates.

d) a definite philatelic policy and possibly an agency, with a board to recommend suitable subjects for at least one definitive and one or two commemorative sets or special (topical) sets per year and the authority to have them attractively printed abroad. As Yemen is one of the least-known countries in the world, and has shown virtually nothing of her architectural, archaeological, historical, scenic, or other features on her stamp issues, there is a wide field for interesting subject matter here.

The rest of Adviser Kablawy's reform plans have to do with the postal workers' civil service system. (Continued on page 19)

EIRE or IRELAND

During the past twelve months, we have stocked up well on this country, due to its increasing popularity. Also, it has been put back into the Gibbons Part I catalogue in its entirety, a significant feature in itself.

Doubtless there are a number of items you are requiring, and, no doubt we can be of assistance. Whilst on the subject of the Blarney Isle, we have photographed the famous Blarney stone. Like one? Of other countries whose issues are overprinted on those of Great Britain we have good stocks of the Morocco early errors, "Broad top to M", "Joined N-C" and "Bar to A missing".

In NAUPE we have the first issue showing the very NAUPE error in pair with normal, and, of course, the rare 10/-.

GREAT BRITAIN modern issues should not be neglected, including the recently issued SCOUTS set—the shortest lived set of G.B. this century. We also have this set for the BPO's M & U and all foreign Scouts issues, and then don't forget the INTER-PARLIAMENTARY issue for GREAT BRITAIN on sale for a few days only (FDC 30c). Also remember the current G.B. high values about to change shortly for the inter zone high values. G.B. booklets are worth having and perhaps we can supply you with some of these.

Then, don't miss out on some of the recent Gold Coast, including the set of Q.E. before the GHANA overprints. Get these now.

If you want to be in the thick of it, as we are here in Trafalgar Square, just get in touch with us and then you are almost certain to get what you want. Don't forget, contact us now, and remember, our business is dealing with Colonial wants lists.

ADEN. Did you neglect this—because don't—it is going places. GO WITH IT—not after it has risen. MIDDLE EAST tem, wages, office equipment, etc. not of particular interest to philatelists.

Syrian Mothers' Day Cards,
Covers and Cachets

It seems that the Syrian P.O. Department went all out to honor Syrian Mothers at the time of issue of the airmail commemorative pair for Mothers' Day last March 21. In addition to the data reported in our special article in LINN'S of June 17, the following additional information has now come from Damascus about this popular issue.

For the first time in postal history the P.O. Department issued a special commemorative cachet envelope in the quantity of 900 copies showing a mother holding her baby on her shoulder. The cachet is on the right side of the envelope and carries the Arabic superscription: "Department of Posts, Telegraph and Telephones: In Commemoration of the Mothers' Day Stamp Issue; 21/ 3/ 1957".

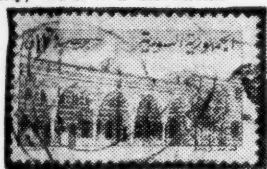

A postal card, or rather post card, on glazed stock, with an Arabic text praising Syrian motherhood was also issued by the Department, with the two stamps affixed and cancelled with the special cachet described below. The number of these cards was not announced.

The special cachet applied to the above items and to all philatelic mail presented during the first day of issue is a bilingual one, whose French and Arabic texts translate: "First Day, 21 March 1957, Mothers' Day".

Finally, for distribution to postal employees as bonuses in marginal singles, or as miniature sheet pairs, the two stamps were printed together on imperforate card stock without any marginal inscriptions, in the quantity of 1500 sheets.

Syrian Definitives Without Latin Letters

The last mail pouch from Damascus to Yemen brings Syrian mail franked with new 12½ piaster definitives of the Damascene Azm Palace design inscribed entirely in Arabic. The superscription across the top reads, right to left: "Syrian Republic; Post; 12½pi." ("Al-Jumhuriyat as-Suriyat; Barid; 12½q." for qurush, the Arabic word for "piaster", taken directly from the German "gro-schen", as on the stamps of Austria). Scott reports seeing this stamp both in violet and in grey, but I have only seen the violet variety, illustrated herewith.

The reason for this sudden abandoning of Latin letter (French language) inscriptions on Syria's stamps is undoubtedly political, stemming from decisions made at the time of the Anglo-French attack on Egypt's Port Said and Suez Canal area last year. An Egyptian parallel may be seen in recent superscriptions in Latin letters on Egyptian stamps setting forth the Arabic version of the name of the country: "Mossr", in place of the foreign "Egypte".

This, however, has numerous philatelic precedents in the cases of Thailand (ex-Siam), Iran (ex-Persia), Iraq (ex-Mesopotamia), etc. Egypt and Syria, the sister Arab Nationalist republics, are now going through phases of nationalism similar to 19th Century German, Italian, and other unification movements, and we may expect many more such manifestations along these lines. Philatelic and otherwise, until the two young republics have learned, like their sister Arab state of Lebanon, to combine intense love of country and nationalism at home with a more tolerant international outlook and understanding.

As long as they feel that the West is directly and indirectly blocking the Arabic independence and unity movement, and is showing favor to Israel and to colonialism, however, prospects of their following Lebanon's example are remote.

Should other values than the 12½pi. 1st class local letter rate one appear, this column will present a chart of the Arabic numerals from 1 to 10 and a key to the combinations for higher multiples, so that values may be read by philatelists readily.

Attractive "Arab Kings and Presidents' Cacheted Covers for Lebanon

In preparation for the issue of Lebanon's special "Arab Kings and Presidents' issue, commemorating the Sovereigns and Chief Executives of the Arab states who gathered in Beirut last November to consider joint action against the West should France and England not heed the U.N. order to cease military operations in Egypt, executive secretary Farah G. Farah of the Lebanese dealers' association prepared some strikingly beautiful cacheted covers.

Designed by Koroleff, the chief designer of Lebanese postage stamps for the past quarter century, Mr. Farah's covers, with their nine-color Leogravure cachet, by the Catholic Press of Beirut (which also produces most of Lebanon's stamps) are inscribed in English and Arabic.

Surrounding the portrait of H.E. Camille Chamoun, President of the Lebanese Republic, is a laurel wreath, around which are draped the flags, in natural colors, of those Arab states whose rulers personally attended the conference. Clockwise, they are: Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Sudan. Libya, Egypt, and Yemen are not included as they were represented only by deputies of their rulers.

1000 copies of this exclusive item were prepared. It will be illustrated in this column together with the full set of stamps tied to it on first day of issue as soon as a flown cover comes through to Yemen. There may be some delay in this case, as our lone airmail contact with the outside world, the "Tuesday plane" from Jeddah in Saudi Arabia to Hodeida, on Yemen's Red Sea coast, has been sidetracked for a couple of weeks to shuttle pilgrims to and from Mecca for the Feast of the sacrifice of Abraham. This brings us to the next item, in answer to numerous questions received about the way mail comes and goes from this isolated South Arabian mountain kingdom.

Yemen's International Mail Routes

Yemen receives four or five full mail sacks of foreign surface and airmail per week and sends out between 2500 and 3000 letters, newspapers and a few small packets for the same period.

All surface mail now goes by mail truck from Taiz in southern Yemen, headquarters of the Postmaster General, to the General Post Office of the adjacent British Crown Colony of Aden for dispatch overseas. The transit time in good weather is about 8½ to 10 hours, from 7 p.m. Thursday until late morning Friday, with stopover enroute to sleep at the last Yemeni outpost of al-Rahida or at the Sultan of Lahj's first frontier town of al-Karsh in the western Aden protectorate.

Airmail is dispatched from the seaport of Hodeida at about noon each Tuesday in sealed pouches which transit Jeddah to Cairo for further distribution.

Incoming surface mail and airmail except from the north Arab states is brought by the returning night truck from Aden Saturday night or Sunday morning in time to reach Taiz Sunday afternoon. If good connections are made it is possible for me to get a letter from California to Taiz in six days, but it has to reach Aden by Friday to make the connection. Usually it lays over a week in Aden.

Incoming airmail from the north Arab states is theoretically quicker but actually sometimes much slower than via Aden. With good connections, I used to get on Tuesday morning, my Sunday morning Beirut paper, "The Daily Star" plus the previous week's airmailed issues, and also my letter mail from Beirut for the same period.

Actually, the Jeddah Post Office sometimes sits on or loses the mail, and it often takes three weeks for a registered letter to reach me from Beirut. Correspondents writing to Yemen should mark their letter mail "Via Aden, Arabia" to insure the most rapid transit for the time being. A new airline is now being opened between Hodeida and Damascus, Syria, probably to provide weekly service on some other day than Tuesday, when this materializes the Yemen Post Office will probably arrange for all airmail to transit Hodeida-Damascus, as the Syrian Post Office is prompt and efficient.

When the Sunday mail arrives from Aden, Taiz promptly sorts out the Hodeida mail and sends it, along with all Taiz airmail destined for the Tuesday plane, in the same truck to Hodeida Sunday night. Sana'a mail leaves the next morning for the north by truck also, as the Sumara Pass road has now been fixed for auto travel and the camel caravan route has been discontinued.

Hodeida dispatches its received airmail Tuesday night by truck to Taiz and by camel caravan to Sana'a the same day. Strange to say, the camel route has always proven the most dependable, as the plodding beasts, with their extra-long legs, are not stopped by mountain floods, whereas the mail truck has been delayed for hours or even days waiting for flash floods to subside during the rainy seasons.

All other mail routes in Yemen are serviced by occasional trucks and jeeps or more regular camel caravans, usually on a weekly basis, although in very isolated mountain fastnesses or desert regions, horse, donkey or foot transport is sometimes substituted.

And that is how your air and surface mail reaches us in Yemen.

As a postscript we might add that any letter or small packet containing something valuable as an enclosure should be registered to insure its safe arrival. This is not only true of the Yemen, where leedy and underpaid clerks are often tempted even to remove letters from the mail in order to salvage the cancelled stamps for sale (and higher values of Yemen, cancelled, bring fancy prices on the stamp market), but also of the British Crown Colony of Aden, where I have lost nearly a half-dozen letters, addressed to a known philatelist friend, at the Aden Camp (Crater) Post Office, and he has lost an equal number addressed to me, both in Lebanon and in Yemen.

Questions of general interest concerning Middle East philately addressed to Bruce Conde, General Post Office, Taiz, Yemen, will be answered here and philatelic requests passed on to reputable dealers, but the writer cannot undertake direct correspondence.

World's First Electronic Stamps

During October, the British postal authorities will place on sale the world's first electronic postage stamps. These may be the ordinary British 2d and 3d values of the Queen Elizabeth definitive types, on the backs of which are printed lines in black. These lines—perhaps one for the 2d stamp, two for the 3d value—will serve to distinguish letters franked with the stamps, when they are placed in an electronic sorting machine. The secret is in the ink used by the printers for applying the lines which are printed under the gum. The medium used is "naphthadag"—a special solution of graphite in naphtha—which forms an electronic "receiver". An electrical discharge penetrating the stamps when fed into a special machine causes a recognition signal to be emitted, which distinguishes the two denominations from each other.

The machine acting on these impulses, separates the two types of franking (letters from printed matter) faces them the right way up for postmarking and cancels them, so that they emerge from the machine ready for immediate sorting into destinations.

The stamps will be placed on sale in a restricted experimental area around Southampton only, as the prototype unit is installed in that post office.

Further research is progressing, and it may be possible for the electronic "recognition" to be achieved without any visible means on the stamp itself.

The G.P.O. will be announcing detailed plans for making these stamps available to philatelists, and will also announce the exact date of issue.

3d Booklets October 1

Booklets comprising three panes of six British 3d stamps, selling price 4/6, were released on October 1. These will bring the first watermark variants (inverts) to this denomination. Details about coils with watermark sideways are still awaited.

The old 3/9 booklets (18-2 1/2 stamps) were withdrawn September 30.

Parliamentary Postmarks: Good Standard

It is satisfying to know that early copies of the FDC's serviced for the Parliamentary stamp showed very good and clean strikes of the special (and intricate) postmark with its pictorial design of Big Ben and the Houses of Parliament.

Canadian "Royal Visit" Stamp Inspired By Catalogue Cover?

Twin profile portraits of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh are to be seen on the 5c black stamp which Canada releases October 10 in honor of the Royal Visit to the Dominion.

The arrangement appears to have been inspired by the cover of Stanley Gibbons' "Two Reigns" catalogue; it is based on photographs by Karsh of Ottawa, and was designed and engraved by the Canadian Banknote Company Ltd. The format is announced as "slightly larger than the present definitives". They will be in sheets of 100.

Seychelles Provisional Starts Scramble

With the Crown Agents announcement of September 12 that current 45c. Seychelles stamps are being overprinted with a new value—5c—locally, a rush began.

These stamps will be available only in the Seychelles and will not be handled by the Crown Agents. The need for overprinting arose following a shortage of 2c and 3c stamps, which were in demand pending the arrival of the new 5c value now in production.

The provisionals will be on sale until the new 5c stamps are to hand; they were released on September 16. An announcement about the permanent value is expected in the October "Crown Agents Bulletin".

New Printing On Order

The following new editions of current stamps have been ordered by the Crown Agents: Br. Solomon Is: 2d; Hong Kong: 5, 10, 25, 30, 50c, $1, $2, $5, $10; Malta: 1/2d, 1d, 2d, 3d, 4 1/2d; Nigeria: 1/2d, 1d, 3d, 6d, 1/-, 2/6; St. Lucia: 8, 10, 15c.

Current releases: New printings were released as follows: September 11: Bahamas 1/2d; Ceylon (Stamp Centenary): 35, 85c—from Ceylon; September 18: Br. Honduras: 2, 3 10c; Sierra Leone: 1/2d, 3d; September 25: Nigeria: 1/2d, 1d, 2d, 3d, 4d, 6d, 1/-, 5/-; Tristan: 1d.

Ghana Admits Slip

The Ghana Postal Authorities have issued the following announcement:

"It is notified for general information that a number of 2d, 2 1/2d and 4d overprinted stamps of the former Gold Coast permanent issue have in error been sold contemporaneously with the commemorative issue of 2d, 2 1/2d and 4d Ghanaian stamps. It may therefore be assumed that such overprinted stamps bearing cancellation mark subsequent to May 18, are genuine."

Designers Named And Amended

The new Malayan independence stamp was designed by Enche Md. Abu Bakar Saman, Majlis Ugama Islam, of Khota Baru, Kelantan.

Amendments to the designers' names of the new Zanzibar issue are noted as follows: 1/-: designed by Anthony S. B. New; 5/-: designed by B. J. Woolley.

William Brown Design

September 23 was the first day of the small-size 3d blue and 1/3c stamps honoring Adm. William Brown on the centenary of his death. The design by Sean O'Sullivan, R.H.A. shows a portrait of Brown. Printing (letterpress) was by the Government Printing Works, Dublin Castle, on "e" watermarked paper.

Slight Differences In Releases

August 14: Bechuanaland 1/2d: deeper olive of specialist interest only; Grenada: 1c slightly lighter; 2, 3c no change; 4c slightly lighter; 25c darker frame. August 21: St. Lucia: 2c much lighter—may be worth catalogue status; 3c no change; 4c slightly lighter; 5c, as 2c; 6d slightly lighter.

French Will Add One More View

It is expected that the forthcoming French definitives will also include a 65fr. value or registered letters—probably a view of Evian-Bains, now being engraved by Pheulpin. In October, the stamp for the 2000th anniversary of Lyon (designed by Spitz, engraved by Mazelin) will be released.

The new definitives will—with changed denominations—comprise the following values and views: 8fr, Seno River Guadeloupe; 10fr, Elysee Palace; 18fr, Beynac; 25fr, Valency Castle; 35fr, Rouen Cathedral; 50fr, St-Remy-les-Antiques, 65fr, Evian.

The following issues were withdrawn September 14: 12fr, Marianne de Muller; 15, 30fr, Europa 1956; Resistance Heroes; 12fr, Uzes; 8fr, Quesnoy.

Paintings For Algeria Charity

Three paintings from the National Fine Arts Museum in Algeria form the subject of the "Army Social Works" series which will be released in November engraved by Piel. In the usual French commemorative size the stamps show: 15+5fr, donkey rider crossing a gully, by Delacroix; 20 + 5fr, shore of an oasis lake by Fromentin; 35 + 10fr, dancer by Chasseriau. Colors have not yet been announced.

New Andorra Values

35fr, blue-green, and 70fr, yellow-brown stamps in the "Les Bons" design have been added to the permanent set for Andorra (French P.O.) They were released August 17. On the 14th the following values were withdrawn from sale: 40 and 75fr definitives, 3 and 4fr postage dues.

Primitive Tunisians

Local printing—reminiscent of the quality and design of locally produced Afghanistan sets—"distinguishes" three stamps for "Army Fortnight" which were issued in Tunisia August 8-12. The printing of 30,000 level sets was rapidly sold out of stocks.

The design of two soldiers and an arm brandishing a flag was lithographed in the following colors: 20fr, rose; 25fr, violet; 30fr, orange. At the same time the Paris State Printing Office furnished a red overprint on the blue 20fr definitive which reads, in arabic letters, "Army Fortnight 1957" "+10".

Two Brazilians In October

The World Basket Ball Championship, Buenos Aires, in October will be marked by a single stamp on October 19. On October 24 (UN Day), the presence of a Brazilian contingent amongst the UNO forces in Egypt will be marked by a commemorative.

Dominican Scout "Racket"

The Olympic Games Champions set from the Dominican Republic has been surcharged in gold with an additional 2c value and the legend "Centenario Lord Faden-Powell, 1957-1957" for the benefit of Dominican boy scouts. There are 50,000 sets, 3000 souvenir sheets surcharged "+5" all released on September 5. (Sheets were "rationed"—one per 20 sets bought).

Guatemala Surcharge

The overprint "AEREO 1957", has been applied on three of the 1956 Guatemala Red Cross series: 5 + 15c; 5 + 30c, 25 + 50c.

Bulgaria Honors Esperanto

For the 70th anniversary of Esperanto and the 50th anniversary of the Bulgarian Esperanto Assn. the Sofia P.O. released during August a green 44st. stamp, showing a portrait of Dr. Zamenhof who developed the language, and a view of the town of Tirnovo. Designers: M. Velez and S. Katshev; 200,000 copies photogravure printed in sheets of 50.

On August 14, two stamps—16st. dark green and blue, and 44st. dark brown—were released for the 80th anniversary of liberation from the Turks. The 16st. shows a Bulgarian volunteer of the 1877 war and a Soviet soldier today (500,000); the 44st. brings the battle of the Shipka Pass (200,??). Designer: I. Petrov and V. Dzakov.

Linn's Unit System Album Pages

U. S. REGULAR POSTAGE—1847 THRU 1956

EVERY STAMP ILLUSTRATED—40 PAGES

HERE IS THE FINEST

- A complete album for all regular issues of United States Postage Stamps from 1847 thru 1956. Every stamp illustrated. Arranged by issues with dates and identifying indicia over each issue and explanatory notes below. A picture of the stamp with denomination and color in each box so that even without a catalog you can identify the stamps you need in ordering from the dealers. See illustration which is half size of pages.
- Pages are 11x8½ inch, printed by lithography on heavy fine white paper of substantial body and weight so that you will feel proud of your album. Pages are punched with three holes to fit the standard three ring binder of this size.
- This set of pages consists of 40 pages which includes a title page and an extra blank page for new issues, until new supplementary pages are ready. Each year we produce supplementary pages at a nominal cost so you can always keep your album up to date. We have purposely omitted a few of the higher priced minor varieties as listed by Scott and which few collectors ever expect to own. By this method it is possible to fill every page in this splendid album and make your collection appear complete. You are not plagued by empty spaces which you never expect to fill.
- Spaces are provided for every stamp from 1847 thru 1956 including all imperforates and coils (no coils for 1956) as well as all stamps issued in sheets. Regular postage issues only, no commemoratives. Commemoratives complete for the same period are included in our Unit Number 1 which is also available, see listing in box below.

Dealer ★ ★ Doings

"It pays to read Linn's," says
A. Kaplan, Box 444, Mineola 2, N.
Y., and he offers to prove it to anyone who will send for his new price list on a wide variety of stamps, albums and accessories, with attractive discounts on all items. Anyone requesting the list and mentioning Linn's may have for just 60c a plate block, a block of four and a single, all mint, of the 4c Flag.

It will not be a vacation, but
G. Neal Fallaw, 5043 So. Ashland Ave., Chicago 9, Ill. is closing up shop from October 25 to November 14 and heading for New York.
"No ads for that period," he instructs Linn's, "and please mention that I'll catch up with all orders and mail as soon as I return.
Am going on a hunt to try to replenish my stocks of Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam."

That "something new had been added" might be said of the ads of Joseph F. Negreen, popular New England dealer in British Colonies stamps "from Victoria to Elizabeth" as he phrases it. New is his address, not too many miles from his former stand. Old and new customers may reach him henceforth at P. O. Box 204, Ridgefield, Conn. where the established Ne-green policy will continue.

A particularly attractive album page for the Grace Kelly Wedding set of Monaco has been prepared by Cempco, 3932 N. W. 176th Terr., white with ornamental frame, it shows the royal couple and provides spaces for the five stamps which are included at the price of $1 for the black-and-white page.

$1.50 extra gets added hand illumination.

The "United Nations Philatelist", a comparative newcomer to the field, is an excellent source of information for the UN specialist.
With 16 pages per issue and averaging better than one photographic illustration per 6x9 page, the magazine meets-and fills-a definite need. Subscription $3 per year from A. Terins, 1948 2nd Ave., New York 29, N. Y. Single copy, 35c.

Improved business can bring problems, says Martin Sellinger,
P. O. Box 47, White Plains, N. Y.
He licked the situation readily enough by retaining his established mailing address while removing actual business operations to larger quarters in the heart of the business district. Even more prompt and efficient servicing of the mail-order trade is promised by Mr. Sellinger.

The Fall 1957 price list of Canada and U. S., issued by the Stamp Showcase, 7916 6th Ave., Brook-printed booklet with an excellent listing of Canada from No. 50 and U. S. beginning with the Columbians, all listed in two grades with some of the older items in still a third condition. The list is available from the company at the above address.
